An Act to make provision to protect the privacy of individuals, and for related purposes

WHEREAS Australia is a party to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the English text of which is set out in Schedule 2 to the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission Act 1986:

AND WHEREAS, by that Covenant, Australia has undertaken to adopt such legislative measures as may be necessary to give effect to the right of persons not to be subjected to arbitrary or unlawful interference with their privacy, family, home or correspondence:

AND WHEREAS Australia is a member of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development:

AND WHEREAS the Council of that Organisation has recommended that member countries take into account in their domestic legislation the principles concerning the protection of privacy and individual liberties set forth in Guidelines annexed to the recommendation:

AND WHEREAS Australia has informed that Organisation that it will participate in the recommendation concerning those Guidelines:

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Queen, and the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Australia, as follows:

Part I—Preliminary

1 Short title [see Note 1]

This Act may be cited as the Privacy Act 1988.

2 Commencement [see Note 1]

This Act commences on a day to be fixed by Proclamation.

3 Saving of certain State and Territory laws

It is the intention of the Parliament that this Act is not to affect the operation of a law of a State or of a Territory that makes provision with respect to the collection, holding, use, correction, disclosure or transfer of personal information (including such a law relating to credit reporting or the use of information held in connection with credit reporting) and is capable of operating concurrently with this Act.

Note: Such a law can have effect for the purposes of the provisions of the National Privacy Principles that regulate the handling of personal information by organisations by reference to the effect of other laws.

3A Application of the Criminal Code

Chapter 2 of the Criminal Code (except Part 2.5) applies to all offences against this Act.

Note: Chapter 2 of the Criminal Code sets out the general principles of criminal responsibility.

4 Act to bind the Crown

- (1) This Act binds the Crown in right of the Commonwealth, of each of the States, of the Australian Capital Territory, of the Northern Territory and of Norfolk Island.
- (2) Nothing in this Act renders the Crown in right of the Commonwealth, of a State, of the Australian Capital Territory, of the Northern Territory or of Norfolk Island liable to be prosecuted for an offence.
- (3) Nothing in this Act shall be taken to have the effect of making the Crown in right of a State, of the Australian Capital Territory, of the Northern Territory or of Norfolk Island an agency for the purposes of this Act.

5 Interpretation of Information Privacy Principles

For the purposes of the interpretation of the Information Privacy Principles, each Information Privacy Principle shall be treated as if it were a section of this Act.

5A Extension to external Territories

This Act extends to all external Territories.

5B Extra-territorial operation of Act

Application to overseas acts and practices of organisations

- (1) This Act (except Divisions 4 and 5 of Part III and Part IIIA) and approved privacy codes extend to an act done, or practice engaged in, outside Australia and the external Territories by an organisation if:
 - (a) subject to subsection (1A), the act or practice relates to personal information about an Australian citizen or a person whose continued presence in Australia is not subject to a limitation as to time imposed by law; and
 - (b) the requirements of subsection (2) or (3) are met.

Note: The act or practice overseas will not breach a National Privacy Principle or approved privacy code or be an interference with the privacy of an individual if the act or practice is required by an applicable foreign law. See sections 6A, 6B and 13A.

(1A) Paragraph (1)(a) does not apply in relation to National Privacy Principle 9.

Note: Because of subsection (1A), the extra-territorial application of National Privacy Principle 9 is not limited by the citizenship etc. requirement of paragraph (1)(a).

Organisational link with Australia

- (2) The organisation must be:
- (a) an Australian citizen; or
 - (b) a person whose continued presence in Australia is not subject to a limitation as to time imposed by law; or

 - (b) the organisation carries on business in Australia or an external Territory;
 - (c) the personal information was collected or held by the organisation in Australia or an external Territory, either before or at the time of the act or practice.

Power to deal with complaints about overseas acts and practices

- (4) Part V of this Act has extra-territorial operation so far as that Part relates to complaints and investigation concerning acts and practices to which this Act extends because of subsection (1).

Note: This lets the Commissioner take action overseas to investigate complaints and lets the ancillary provisions of Part V operate in that context.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies to acts done, and practices engaged in, by a prescribed agency. Regulations for this purpose may prescribe an agency only if it is specified in Part I of Schedule 2 to the Freedom of Information Act 1982.

- (3) Subsection (1) also applies to acts and practices that:
- (a) are done or engaged in by an agency specified in Division 1 of Part II of Schedule 2 to the Freedom of Information Act 1982 in relation to documents in respect of its commercial activities or the commercial activities of another entity; and

 - (b) for a purpose described in paragraph (2)(b).

Volunteers for registered political parties

- (4) An act done voluntarily, or practice engaged in voluntarily, by an organisation for or on behalf of a registered political party and with the authority of the party is exempt for the purposes of paragraph 7(1)(ee) if the act is done or the practice is engaged in for any purpose in connection with one or more of the following:
- (a) an election under an electoral law;
 - (b) a referendum under a law of the Commonwealth or a law of a State or Territory;
 - (c) the participation in another aspect of the political process by the registered political party;
 - (d) facilitating acts or practices of the registered political party for a purpose mentioned in paragraph (a), (b) or (c).

Parliament means:

- (a) the Parliament of the Commonwealth; or

Note: To avoid doubt, this section does not make exempt for the purposes of paragraph 7(1)(ee) an act or practice of the political representative, contractor, subcontractor or volunteer for a registered political party involving the use or disclosure (by way of sale or otherwise) of personal information in a way not covered by subsection (1), (2), (3) or (4) (as appropriate). 12 Application of Information Privacy Principles to agency in possession

For the purposes of this Act, where an agency has possession but not control of a record of personal information, the Information Privacy Principles apply in relation to that agency to the extent only of the obligations or duties to which that agency is subject, otherwise than by virtue of the operation of this Act, because it is in possession of that particular record.

12A Act not to apply in relation to State banking or insurance within that State

Where, but for this section, a provision of this Act:

- (a) would have a particular application; and
- (b) by virtue of having that application, would be a law with respect to, or with respect to matters including:
 - (i) State banking not extending beyond the limits of the State concerned; or
 - (ii) State insurance not extending beyond the limits of the State concerned; the provision is not to have that application.

12B Severability: additional effect of Act in relation to organisations

- (1) Without limiting its effect apart from each of the following subsections of this section, this Act also has effect in relation to organisations as provided by that subsection.
- (2) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to an operation to give effect to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and in particular Article 17 of the Covenant.

Note: The text of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights is set out in Australian Treaty Series 1980 No. 23. In 2000, this was available in the Australian Treaties Library of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, accessible on the Internet through that Department's world-wide web site.

- (3) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to acts or practices covered by subsection 5B(1) (which deals with acts and practices outside Australia and the external Territories by organisations).
- (4) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to organisations that are corporations.
- (5) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to acts or practices of organisations taking place in the course of, or in relation to, trade or commerce:
 - (a) between Australia and places outside Australia; or
 - (b) among the States; or
 - (c) within a Territory, between a State and a Territory or between 2 Territories.
- (6) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to acts or practices of organisations taking place using a postal, telegraphic, telephonic or other like service within the meaning of paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution.
- (7) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to acts or practices of organisations taking place in a Territory.
- (8) This Act also has the effect it would have if its operation in relation to organisations were expressly confined to acts or practices of organisations taking place in a place acquired by the Commonwealth for public purposes.

Part III—Information privacy

Division 1—Interferences with privacy

13 Interferences with privacy

For the purposes of this Act, an act or practice is an interference with the privacy of an individual if the act or practice:

- (a) in the case of an act or practice engaged in by an agency (whether or not the agency is also a file number recipient, credit reporting agency or credit provider)—breaches an Information Privacy Principle in relation to personal information that relates to the individual;
- (b) in the case of an act or practice engaged in by a file number recipient (whether or not the file number recipient is also an agency, organisation, credit reporting agency or credit provider)—breaches a guideline under section 17 in relation to tax file number information that relates to the individual;
- (ba) constitutes a breach of Part 2 of the Data-matching Program (Assistance and Tax) Act 1990 or the guidelines in force under that Act;
- (bb) constitutes a breach of the guidelines in force under section 135AA of the National Health Act 1953;
- (c) involves an unauthorised requirement or request for disclosure of the tax file number of the individual; or
- (d) in the case of an act or practice engaged in by a credit reporting agency or credit provider (whether or not the credit reporting agency or credit provider is also an agency, organisation or file number recipient)—constitutes a credit reporting infringement in relation to personal information that relates to the individual.

13A Interferences with privacy by organisations

General rule

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, an act or practice of an organisation is an interference with the privacy of an individual if:
- (a) the act or practice breaches an approved privacy code that binds the organisation in relation to personal information that relates to the individual; or
 - (b) both of the following apply:
 - (i) the act or practice breaches a National Privacy Principle in relation to personal information that relates to the individual;
 - (ii) the organisation is not bound by an approved privacy code in relation to the personal information; or

- (c) all of the following apply:
- (i) the act or practice relates to personal information that relates to the individual;
 - (ii) the organisation is a contracted service provider for a Commonwealth contract (whether or not the organisation is a party to the contract);
 - (iii) because of a provision of the contract that is inconsistent with an approved privacy code or a National Privacy Principle that applies to the organisation in relation to the personal information, the act or practice does not breach the code or Principle (see subsections 6A(2) and 6B(2));
 - (iv) the act is done, or the practice is engaged in, in a manner contrary to, or inconsistent with, that provision; or
- (d) the act or practice involves the organisation in a contravention of section 16F (which limits direct marketing using information collected under a Commonwealth contract) involving personal information that relates to the individual.

Note: Sections 13B, 13C and 13D contain exceptions to this rule.

Rule applies even if other rules also apply

- (2) It does not matter whether the organisation is also a credit reporting agency, a credit provider or a file number recipient.

13B Related bodies corporate

Acts or practices that are not interferences with privacy

- (1) Despite paragraphs 13A(1)(a) and (b), each of the following acts or practices of an organisation that is a body corporate is not an interference with the privacy of an individual:
- (a) the collection of personal information (other than sensitive information) about the individual by the body corporate from a related body corporate;
 - (b) the disclosure of personal information (other than sensitive information) about the individual by the body corporate to a related body corporate.

Note: Subsection (1) lets related bodies corporate share personal information. However, in using or holding the information, they must comply with the National Privacy Principles or a binding approved privacy code. For example, there is an interference with privacy if:

- (a) a body corporate uses personal information it has collected from a related body corporate; and
- (b) the use breaches National Privacy Principle 2 (noting that the collecting body's primary purpose of collection will be taken to be the same as that of the related body) or a corresponding provision in a binding approved privacy code.

(1A) However, paragraph (1)(a) does not apply to the collection by a body corporate of personal information (other than sensitive information) from:

- (a) a related body corporate that is not an organisation; or

- (b) a related body corporate whose disclosure of the information to the body corporate is an exempt act or exempt practice for the purposes of paragraph 7(1)(ee); or
- (c) a related body corporate whose disclosure of the information to the body corporate is not an interference with privacy because of section 13D.

Note: The effect of subsection (1A) is that a body corporate's failure to comply with the National Privacy Principles, or a binding approved privacy code, in collecting personal information about an individual from a related body corporate covered by that subsection is an interference with the privacy of the individual.

Relationship with paragraphs 13A(1)(c) and (d)

- (2) Subsection (1) does not prevent an act or practice of an organisation from being an interference with the privacy of an individual under paragraph 13A(1)(c) or (d).

13C Change in partnership because of change in partners

Acts or practices that are not interferences with privacy

- (1) If:
 - (a) an organisation (the new partnership) that is a partnership forms at the same time as, or immediately after, the dissolution of another partnership (the old partnership); and
 - (b) at least one person who was a partner in the old partnership is a partner in the new partnership; and
 - (c) the new partnership carries on a business that is the same as, or similar to, a business carried on by the old partnership; and

16 Agencies to comply with Information Privacy Principles

An agency shall not do an act, or engage in a practice, that breaches an Information Privacy Principle.

Division 3—Approved privacy codes and the National Privacy Principles

16A Organisations to comply with approved privacy codes or National Privacy Principles

- (1) An organisation must not do an act, or engage in a practice, that breaches an approved privacy code that binds the organisation.
- (2) To the extent (if any) that an organisation is not bound by an approved privacy code, the organisation must not do an act, or engage in a practice, that breaches a National Privacy Principle.
- (3) This section, approved privacy codes and the National Privacy Principles have effect in addition to sections 18 and 18A and Part IIIA, and do not derogate from them.
- (4) To avoid doubt, an act done, or practice engaged in, by an organisation without breaching an approved privacy code or the National Privacy Principles is not authorised by law (or by this Act) for the purposes of Part IIIA merely because it does not breach the code or the Principles.

Note: If an act or practice is otherwise authorised by law, exceptions to the prohibitions in the National Privacy Principles and Part IIIA may mean that the act or practice does not breach the Principles or certain provisions of that Part.

16B Personal information in records

- (1) This Act (except Divisions 4 and 5 of Part III and Part IIIA) applies to the collection of personal information by an organisation only if the information is collected for inclusion in a record or a generally available publication.

- (3) National Privacy Principle 6 applies in relation to personal information collected after the commencement of this section. That Principle also applies to personal information collected by an organisation before that commencement and used or disclosed by the organisation after that commencement, except to the extent that compliance by the organisation with the Principle in relation to the information would:
- (a) place an unreasonable administrative burden on the organisation; or
 - (b) cause the organisation unreasonable expense.
- (4) National Privacy Principle 8 applies only to transactions entered into after the commencement of this section.

16D Delayed application of National Privacy Principles to small business

- (1) This section deals with the application of the National Privacy Principles to an organisation that carries on one or more small businesses throughout the delayed application period for the organisation. This section has effect despite section 16C.

- (3) National Privacy Principles 3 (so far as it relates to personal information used or disclosed), 4, 5, 7 and 9 apply in relation to the organisation only after the delayed application period.  - (b) by an organisation that is a contracted service provider for the contract.

Note: An organisation may be a contracted service provider for a Commonwealth contract whether or not the organisation is a party to the contract.

 - “(b) shall, subject to this section, take effect:
 - (i) on the first day on which the guidelines are no longer liable to be disallowed, or to be deemed to be disallowed, under this section; or
 - (ii) if the guidelines make provision for their commencement after the day referred to in subparagraph (i), in accordance with that provision; and”.
- (4) Until the first guidelines take effect for the purposes of subsection (1), the interim guidelines set out in Schedule 2 have effect, for the purposes of any provision of this Act other than subsection (1), (2) or (3), as if they were guidelines issued under subsection (1).

18 File number recipients to comply with guidelines

18BAA Privacy codes may cover exempt acts or practices

- (1) Despite paragraph 7(1)(ee), a privacy code may be approved even if it covers exempt acts or practices.
- (2) If an approved privacy code covers exempt acts or practices, this Act applies in relation to the code as if those acts or practices were not exempt acts or practices.

Note: Because of subsection (2), if an approved privacy code covers an act or practice that would usually be exempt:

- (a) the act or practice, if done or engaged in by an organisation bound by the code, may constitute an interference with the privacy of an individual as defined in section 13A; and
- (b) section 16A obliges an organisation bound by the code not to breach the code by doing or engaging in the act or practice; and
- (c) the act or practice, if done or engaged in by an organisation bound by the code, may be the subject of a complaint and investigation under Part V.

18BB Commissioner may approve privacy code

 - (ii) the Commissioner's guidelines (if any) in relation to making and dealing with complaints; and
 - (b) the code provides for the appointment of an independent adjudicator to whom complaints may be made; and
 - (c) the code provides that, in performing his or her functions, and exercising his or her powers, under the code, an adjudicator for the code must have due regard to the matters that paragraph 29(a) requires the Commissioner to have due regard to; and
 - (d) the determinations, findings, declarations, orders and directions that the adjudicator may make under the code after investigating a complaint are the same as those that the Commissioner may make under section 52 after investigating a complaint under this Act; and
 - (e) the code obliges an organisation bound by the code not to repeat or continue conduct of the organisation declared by the adjudicator (after investigating a complaint) to constitute an interference with the privacy of the complainant; and
 - (f) the code obliges an organisation bound by the code to perform an act or course of conduct that the adjudicator has declared (after investigating a complaint) that the organisation should perform to redress loss or damage suffered by the complainant; and
 - (g) the code requires organisations bound by the code to co-operate with the adjudicator when the adjudicator is performing functions or exercising powers under the code; and
 - (h) the code requires a report (in a form satisfactory to the Commissioner) to be prepared as soon as practicable after 30 June each year on the operation of the code during the financial year that ended on that 30 June; and
 - (i) the code requires that a copy of each report is to be given to the Commissioner within a timetable that is satisfactory to the Commissioner; and
 - (j) the code requires that a copy of each report is to be made available to anyone who asks for it; and
 - (k) the code requires the report prepared for each year to include the number and nature of complaints made to an adjudicator under the code during the relevant financial year; and
 - (ka) the code requires the report prepared for each year to include, for each complaint finally dealt with by an adjudicator under the code during the relevant financial year, a summary identifying:
 - (i) the nature of the complaint; and
 - (ii) the provisions of the code applied in dealing with the complaint; and
 - (iii) the outcome of the dealing;whether or not the adjudicator made a determination, finding, declaration, order or direction in dealing with the complaint; and

- (1) the code identifies an adjudicator for the code or another person as the person responsible for the requirements in this subsection relating to the annual report for the code.
- (4) In deciding whether to approve a privacy code, the Commissioner may consider the matters specified in guidelines issued by the Commissioner (if any).

 - (2) The Commissioner may approve in writing the variation.
 - (3) In deciding whether to approve the variation, the Commissioner must consider all of the matters that the Commissioner would consider in deciding whether to approve under section 18BB a privacy code identical to the approved privacy code with the variation.
 - (4) However, if the Commissioner thinks that a variation is minor, he or she need not be satisfied that members of the public have been given an adequate opportunity to comment on a draft variation of the code (as would otherwise be required by paragraph 18BB(2)(f)). Instead, the Commissioner may consult any person he or she thinks appropriate about the draft variation.
 - (5) The approval of the variation takes effect on the day specified in the approval.

- (6) The power of the court to grant an injunction requiring a person to do a particular act or thing may be exercised:
 - (a) if the court is satisfied that the person has refused or failed to do that act or thing—whether or not it appears to the court that the person intends to refuse or fail again, or to continue to refuse or fail, to do that act or thing; or
 - (b) if it appears to the court that, in the event that an injunction is not granted, it is likely that the person will refuse or fail to do that act or thing—whether or not the person has previously refused or failed to do that act or thing and whether or not there is an imminent danger of substantial damage to any person if the first-mentioned person refuses or fails to do that act or thing.

- (7) Where the Commissioner makes an application to the court for the grant of an injunction under this section, the court shall not require the Commissioner or any other person, as a condition of the granting of an interim injunction, to give any undertakings as to damages.
- (8) The powers conferred on the court under this section are in addition to, and not in derogation of, any powers of the court, whether conferred by this Act or otherwise.

99 Delegation

The Commissioner may delegate to either a member of his or her staff or a member of the staff of the Ombudsman all or any of the powers conferred on the Commissioner by this Act, other than a power conferred by section 52 or a power in connection with the performance of the function of the Commissioner set out in paragraph 28(1)(a).

- (5) Where:
- (a) a person other than a body corporate is convicted of an offence; and

- (a) required or permitted by this Act to be prescribed; or
- (b) necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to this Act.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3), before the Governor-General makes regulations for the purposes of subclause 7.1A or paragraph 7.2(c) of the National Privacy Principles prescribing an organisation, identifier and circumstances, the Minister must be satisfied that:
- (a) the agency or the principal executive of the agency (if the agency has a principal executive) has agreed that adoption, use or disclosure by the organisation of the identifier in the circumstances is appropriate; and
- (b) the agency or the principal executive of the agency (if the agency has a principal executive) has consulted the Commissioner about adoption, use or disclosure by the organisation of the identifier in the circumstances; and

Schedule 3—National Privacy Principles

Note: See section 6.

1 Collection

- 1.1 An organisation must not collect personal information unless the information is necessary for one or more of its functions or activities.
- 1.2 An organisation must collect personal information only by lawful and fair means and not in an unreasonably intrusive way.
- 1.3 At or before the time (or, if that is not practicable, as soon as practicable after) an organisation collects personal information about an individual from the individual, the organisation must take reasonable steps to ensure that the individual is aware of:
- (a) the identity of the organisation and how to contact it; and
 - (b) the fact that he or she is able to gain access to the information; and
 - (c) the purposes for which the information is collected; and
 - (d) the organisations (or the types of organisations) to which the organisation usually discloses information of that kind; and
 - (e) any law that requires the particular information to be collected; and
 - (f) the main consequences (if any) for the individual if all or part of the information is not provided.
- 1.4 If it is reasonable and practicable to do so, an organisation must collect personal information about an individual only from that individual.
- 1.5 If an organisation collects personal information about an individual from someone else, it must take reasonable steps to ensure that the individual is or has been made aware of the matters listed in subclause 1.3 except to the extent that making the individual aware of the matters would pose a serious threat to the life or health of any individual.

2 Use and disclosure

- 2.1 An organisation must not use or disclose personal information about an individual for a purpose (the secondary purpose) other than the primary purpose of collection unless:
- (a) both of the following apply:
 - (i) the secondary purpose is related to the primary purpose of collection and, if the personal information is sensitive information, directly related to the primary purpose of collection;
 - (ii) the individual would reasonably expect the organisation to use or disclose the information for the secondary purpose; or

- (b) the individual has consented to the use or disclosure; or
 - (c) if the information is not sensitive information and the use of the information is for the secondary purpose of direct marketing:
 - (i) it is impracticable for the organisation to seek the individual's consent before that particular use; and
 - (ii) the organisation will not charge the individual for giving effect to a request by the individual to the organisation not to receive direct marketing communications; and
 - (iii) the individual has not made a request to the organisation not to receive direct marketing communications; and
 - (iv) in each direct marketing communication with the individual, the organisation draws to the individual's attention, or prominently displays a notice, that he or she may express a wish not to receive any further direct marketing communications; and
 - (v) each written direct marketing communication by the organisation with the individual (up to and including the communication that involves the use) sets out the organisation's business address and telephone number and, if the communication with the individual is made by fax, telex or other electronic means, a number or address at which the organisation can be directly contacted electronically; or
 - (d) if the information is health information and the use or disclosure is necessary for research, or the compilation or analysis of statistics, relevant to public health or public safety:
 - (i) it is impracticable for the organisation to seek the individual's consent before the use or disclosure; and
 - (ii) the use or disclosure is conducted in accordance with guidelines approved by the Commissioner under section 95A for the purposes of this subparagraph; and
 - (iii) in the case of disclosure—the organisation reasonably believes that the recipient of the health information will not disclose the health information, or personal information derived from the health information; or
 - (e) the organisation reasonably believes that the use or disclosure is necessary to lessen or prevent:
 - (i) a serious and imminent threat to an individual's life, health or safety; or
 - (ii) a serious threat to public health or public safety; or
 - (f) the organisation has reason to suspect that unlawful activity has been, is being or may be engaged in, and uses or discloses the personal information as a necessary part of its investigation of the matter or in reporting its concerns to relevant persons or authorities; or
 - (g) the use or disclosure is required or authorised by or under law; or
 - (h) the organisation reasonably believes that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary for one or more of the following by or on behalf of an enforcement body:
 - (i) the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution or punishment of criminal offences, breaches of a law imposing a penalty or sanction or breaches of a prescribed law;
 - (ii) the enforcement of laws relating to the confiscation of the proceeds of crime;

- (iii) the protection of the public revenue;
- (iv) the prevention, detection, investigation or remedying of seriously improper conduct or prescribed conduct;
- (v) the preparation for, or conduct of, proceedings before any court or tribunal, or implementation of the orders of a court or tribunal.

Note 1: It is not intended to deter organisations from lawfully co-operating with agencies performing law enforcement functions in the performance of their functions.

Note 2: Subclause 2.1 does not override any existing legal obligations not to disclose personal information. Nothing in subclause 2.1 requires an organisation to disclose personal information; an organisation is always entitled not to disclose personal information in the absence of a legal obligation to disclose it.

Note 3: An organisation is also subject to the requirements of National Privacy Principle 9 if it transfers personal information to a person in a foreign country.

2.2 If an organisation uses or discloses personal information under paragraph 2.1(h), it must make a written note of the use or disclosure.

2.3 Subclause 2.1 operates in relation to personal information that an organisation that is a body corporate has collected from a related body corporate as if the organisation's primary purpose of collection of the information were the primary purpose for which the related body corporate collected the information.

2.4 Despite subclause 2.1, an organisation that provides a health service to an individual may disclose health information about the individual to a person who is responsible for the individual if:

- (a) the individual:
 - (i) is physically or legally incapable of giving consent to the disclosure; or
 - (ii) physically cannot communicate consent to the disclosure; and
- (b) a natural person (the carer) providing the health service for the organisation is satisfied that either:
 - (i) the disclosure is necessary to provide appropriate care or treatment of the individual; or
 - (ii) the disclosure is made for compassionate reasons; and
- (c) the disclosure is not contrary to any wish:
 - (i) expressed by the individual before the individual became unable to give or communicate consent; and
 - (ii) of which the carer is aware, or of which the carer could reasonably be expected to be aware; and
- (d) the disclosure is limited to the extent reasonable and necessary for a purpose mentioned in paragraph (b).

2.5 For the purposes of subclause 2.4, a person is responsible for an individual if the person is:

- (a) a parent of the individual; or
- (b) a child or sibling of the individual and at least 18 years old; or

- (c) a spouse or de facto spouse of the individual; or
- (d) a relative of the individual, at least 18 years old and a member of the individual's household; or
- (e) a guardian of the individual; or
- (f) exercising an enduring power of attorney granted by the individual that is exercisable in relation to decisions about the individual's health; or
- (g) a person who has an intimate personal relationship with the individual; or
- (h) a person nominated by the individual to be contacted in case of emergency.

2.6 In subclause 2.5:

child of an individual includes an adopted child, a step-child and a foster-child, of the individual.

parent of an individual includes a step-parent, adoptive parent and a foster-parent, of the individual.

relative of an individual means a grandparent, grandchild, uncle, aunt, nephew or niece, of the individual.

sibling of an individual includes a half-brother, half-sister, adoptive brother, adoptive sister, step-brother, step-sister, foster-brother and foster-sister, of the individual.

3 Data quality

An organisation must take reasonable steps to make sure that the personal information it collects, uses or discloses is accurate, complete and up-to-date.

4 Data security

4.1 An organisation must take reasonable steps to protect the personal information it holds from misuse and loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

4.2 An organisation must take reasonable steps to destroy or permanently de-identify personal information if it is no longer needed for any purpose for which the information may be used or disclosed under National Privacy Principle 2.

5 Openness

5.1 An organisation must set out in a document clearly expressed policies on its management of personal information. The organisation must make the document available to anyone who asks for it.

5.2 On request by a person, an organisation must take reasonable steps to let the person know, generally, what sort of personal information it holds, for what purposes, and how it collects, holds, uses and discloses that information.

6 Access and correction

6.1 If an organisation holds personal information about an individual, it must provide the individual with access to the information on request by the individual, except to the extent that:

- (a) in the case of personal information other than health information—providing access would pose a serious and imminent threat to the life or health of any individual; or
 - (b) in the case of health information—providing access would pose a serious threat to the life or health of any individual; or
 - (c) providing access would have an unreasonable impact upon the privacy of other individuals; or
 - (d) the request for access is frivolous or vexatious; or
 - (e) the information relates to existing or anticipated legal proceedings between the organisation and the individual, and the information would not be accessible by the process of discovery in those proceedings; or
 - (f) providing access would reveal the intentions of the organisation in relation to negotiations with the individual in such a way as to prejudice those negotiations; or
 - (g) providing access would be unlawful; or
 - (h) denying access is required or authorised by or under law; or
 - (i) providing access would be likely to prejudice an investigation of possible unlawful activity; or
 - (j) providing access would be likely to prejudice:
 - (i) the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution or punishment of criminal offences, breaches of a law imposing a penalty or sanction or breaches of a prescribed law; or
 - (ii) the enforcement of laws relating to the confiscation of the proceeds of crime; or
 - (iii) the protection of the public revenue; or
 - (iv) the prevention, detection, investigation or remedying of seriously improper conduct or prescribed conduct; or
 - (v) the preparation for, or conduct of, proceedings before any court or tribunal, or implementation of its orders;
- by or on behalf of an enforcement body; or
- (k) an enforcement body performing a lawful security function asks the organisation not to provide access to the information on the basis that providing access would be likely to cause damage to the security of Australia.

6.2 However, where providing access would reveal evaluative information generated within the organisation in connection with a commercially sensitive decision-making process, the organisation may give the individual an explanation for the commercially sensitive decision rather than direct access to the information.

Note: An organisation breaches subclause 6.1 if it relies on subclause 6.2 to give an individual an explanation for a commercially sensitive decision in circumstances where subclause 6.2 does not apply.

- 6.3 If the organisation is not required to provide the individual with access to the information because of one or more of paragraphs 6.1(a) to (k) (inclusive), the organisation must, if reasonable, consider whether the use of mutually agreed intermediaries would allow sufficient access to meet the needs of both parties.
- 6.4 If an organisation charges for providing access to personal information, those charges:
- (a) must not be excessive; and
 - (b) must not apply to lodging a request for access.
- 6.5 If an organisation holds personal information about an individual and the individual is able to establish that the information is not accurate, complete and up-to-date, the organisation must take reasonable steps to correct the information so that it is accurate, complete and up-to-date.
- 6.6 If the individual and the organisation disagree about whether the information is accurate, complete and up-to-date, and the individual asks the organisation to associate with the information a statement claiming that the information is not accurate, complete or up-to-date, the organisation must take reasonable steps to do so.
- 6.7 An organisation must provide reasons for denial of access or a refusal to correct personal information.

7 Identifiers

- 7.1 An organisation must not adopt as its own identifier of an individual an identifier of the individual that has been assigned by:
- (a) an agency; or
 - (b) an agent of an agency acting in its capacity as agent; or
 - (c) a contracted service provider for a Commonwealth contract acting in its capacity as contracted service provider for that contract.

7.1A However, subclause 7.1 does not apply to the adoption by a prescribed organisation of a prescribed identifier in prescribed circumstances.

Note: There are prerequisites that must be satisfied before those matters are prescribed: see subsection 100(2).

- 7.2 An organisation must not use or disclose an identifier assigned to an individual by an agency, or by an agent or contracted service provider mentioned in subclause 7.1, unless:
- (a) the use or disclosure is necessary for the organisation to fulfil its obligations to the agency; or
 - (b) one or more of paragraphs 2.1(e) to 2.1(h) (inclusive) apply to the use or disclosure; or

- (c) the use or disclosure is by a prescribed organisation of a prescribed identifier in prescribed circumstances.

Note: There are prerequisites that must be satisfied before the matters mentioned in paragraph (c) are prescribed: see subsections 100(2) and (3).

7.3 In this clause:

identifier includes a number assigned by an organisation to an individual to identify uniquely the individual for the purposes of the organisation's operations. However, an individual's name or ABN (as defined in the A New Tax System (Australian Business Number) Act 1999) is not an identifier.

8 Anonymity

Wherever it is lawful and practicable, individuals must have the option of not identifying themselves when entering transactions with an organisation.

9 Transborder data flows

An organisation in Australia or an external Territory may transfer personal information about an individual to someone (other than the organisation or the individual) who is in a foreign country only if:

- (a) the organisation reasonably believes that the recipient of the information is subject to a law, binding scheme or contract which effectively upholds principles for fair handling of the information that are substantially similar to the National Privacy Principles; or
- (b) the individual consents to the transfer; or
- (c) the transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract between the individual and the organisation, or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures taken in response to the individual's request; or
- (d) the transfer is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract concluded in the interest of the individual between the organisation and a third party; or
- (e) all of the following apply:
 - (i) the transfer is for the benefit of the individual;
 - (ii) it is impracticable to obtain the consent of the individual to that transfer;
 - (iii) if it were practicable to obtain such consent, the individual would be likely to give it; or
- (f) the organisation has taken reasonable steps to ensure that the information which it has transferred will not be held, used or disclosed by the recipient of the information inconsistently with the National Privacy Principles.

10 Sensitive information

- 10.1 An organisation must not collect sensitive information about an individual unless:
- (a) the individual has consented; or
 - (b) the collection is required by law; or
 - (c) the collection is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the life or health of any individual, where the individual whom the information concerns:
 - (i) is physically or legally incapable of giving consent to the collection; or
 - (ii) physically cannot communicate consent to the collection; or
 - (d) if the information is collected in the course of the activities of a non-profit organisation—the following conditions are satisfied:
 - (i) the information relates solely to the members of the organisation or to individuals who have regular contact with it in connection with its activities;
 - (ii) at or before the time of collecting the information, the organisation undertakes to the individual whom the information concerns that the organisation will not disclose the information without the individual's consent; or
 - (e) the collection is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal or equitable claim.
- 10.2 Despite subclause 10.1, an organisation may collect health information about an individual if:
- (a) the information is necessary to provide a health service to the individual; and
 - (b) the information is collected:
 - (i) as required by law (other than this Act); or
 - (ii) in accordance with rules established by competent health or medical bodies that deal with obligations of professional confidentiality which bind the organisation.
- 10.3 Despite subclause 10.1, an organisation may collect health information about an individual if:
- (a) the collection is necessary for any of the following purposes:
 - (i) research relevant to public health or public safety;
 - (ii) the compilation or analysis of statistics relevant to public health or public safety;
 - (iii) the management, funding or monitoring of a health service; and
 - (b) that purpose cannot be served by the collection of information that does not identify the individual or from which the individual's identity cannot reasonably be ascertained; and
 - (c) it is impracticable for the organisation to seek the individual's consent to the collection; and
 - (d) the information is collected:
 - (i) as required by law (other than this Act); or
 - (ii) in accordance with rules established by competent health or medical bodies that deal with obligations of professional confidentiality which bind the organisation; or

(iii) in accordance with guidelines approved by the Commissioner under section 95A for the purposes of this subparagraph.

10.4 If an organisation collects health information about an individual in accordance with subclause 10.3, the organisation must take reasonable steps to permanently de-identify the information before the organisation discloses it.

10.5 In this clause:

non-profit organisation means a non-profit organisation that has only racial, ethnic, political, religious, philosophical, professional, trade, or trade union aims.
